CALIFORNIA MISSION BI-CENTENNIAL

Volume L
of the
Del-Año

Mission San Diego de Alcalá

FOREWORD

On July 16, 1769, the first of the California Missions, San Diego de Alcalá, was founded by the Franciscan, Father Junipero Serra. During the next fifty-four years, California's mission system grew to a total of twenty-one located a day's journey apart along the "Golden Road," El Camino Real. These Spanish missions were the only centers of civilization and culture in California until late in the eighteenth century.

This year, 1969, marks the bi-centennial of our historic missions and the fiftieth anniversary of the Del-Año. Just as the missions' existence of 200 long and eventful years reminds us of an important era in the colorful history of the Golden State, so also the Del-Año staff hopes that the pages of this book will serve you as reminders of the achievements and activities of the school year, 1968-1969.

DEDICATION

rap-port' (ră-pōrt'; F. ră'pōr'; 70), n. [F., fr. rapporter to bring back, refer.] Relation of harmony, conformity, accord, or affinity; — esp. in in rapport or en rap'port' (ăn ră'pōr') [F.], in an intimate or harmonious relation.

We believe that the word "rapport" suggest an attribute absolutely essential in those who hope to win the respect of students and to teach successfully. This year we honor a husband and wife team who personify that word. He has served our students as teacher, coach, and counselor for twenty-three years. She has offered them able and valuable help for ten. It is to him that full credit for the community's splendid swimming program must go. His first teaching experience in Delano was just across the street in Cecil Avenue School. He joined that faculty in 1938. During the years of World War II, he served with the American Red Cross.

Therefore, in gratitude for your extraordinary efforts on our behalf and in appreciation for your willingness to give generously of your time and yourselves when little recognition is possible we, as spokesmen for the Student Body, dedicate this 50th Anniversary Delano to you, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Johnson (Bus and Marge) as a small token of the esteem we have for you.

ACADEMICS

Instructors, too, have to get back in the academic swing. Mr. Lillis and Mr. Bartleson are planning something here.

Thoughtful and puzzled, these students quickly found out that a new academic year had begun-vacation definitely is over!

Let me see now, what page was that on?

A quaint old custom-getting acquainted, or boy meets girl.

Listening attentively, students in the packed gym hear opening day remarks from many speakers.

Sometimes a few minutes of careful, individual attention clears up the matter, and the student moves ahead.

ACTIVITIES

You can't argue with this evidence that our students really enjoy school!

Activities such as band, arts and crafts, sports, dances, and pep assemblies help make the year at DJUHS an eventful and memorable part of every student's life.

SPORTS

In track and field, the Tigers consistently feature outstanding individual performers.

Each year Delano High water sports attract larger crowds and feature strong swimmers.

Delano High offers an inter-scholastic football program second to none in the state.

ADVERTISING

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

DEL ANO MESSAGE
1968-69

As we focus our attention on the system of missions established in California by early Spanish explorers and priests, we are drawn inevitably to consider not only the special aspect of our cultural heritage that the mission system represents but also some deeper implications of the name of the system.

It is important to be reminded of the contributions of the people of Spain and of Mexico to the opening of California to colonization and of the contribution of Californians to the beginnings of commerce, trade and government; Western civilization first came to California from these sources. We are fortunate in California to be reminded of our Spanish heritage by the names of many of our mountain ranges, rivers, counties, cities and even streets. We are fortunate in Delano to be reminded by the names of fellow students and teachers of the continuing important part played in the development of our school and community by those whose heritage includes Spain and Mexico. Differences among people can lead to bitter problems, but can also be a source of strength. Here, at Delano High School, we are proud of our differences and grateful for the unparalleled opportunities they give us to learn to live and work together effectively. As the early explorers and priests brought their culture with them and strengthened the land, so we look to our students today to add strength to our educational program by bringing their diverse cultural heritages with them to our school.

It is easy for us today to confuse the graceful buildings that remain with the real mission; the sense of purpose and dedication of the early colonizers. They sought to bring a new way of life to the people that lived here then - a better way of life than had been practiced. While today we question their assumption that their way of life was better, we do not question their dedication, their sense of purpose, their mission. Their lesson for us lies in that commitment to ideals. They hold up for us a lasting challenge to seek new frontiers with a sense of purpose and dedication - to have a mission.

Delano High School will continue to provide students not only the opportunities to learn who they are and how they are related to the world in which they live, and to learn skills useful in earning their living in that world, but also the encouragement to develop a sense of purpose for their lives - to have their own mission.

Frank E. Dyer

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

M. W. Young, Asst. Principal
September 24, 1968
Del Ano Message

As we celebrate the 200th anniversary of the establishment of the first of the 21 missions in California and concurrently the 50th publication of the Del Ano of Delano High School it seems only appropriate to reflect on those who have gone before us. A comparison between them and us is perhaps in order.

What did those pioneers of California and Delano High School think about, what were their hopes and fears? Were they so different than we? We know from our history and science books that these people were just about the same as us physically. How about their thoughts?

Most likely these people were not, at least primarily, concerned with riot, protest, mobs ruled by emotion, rampant lawlessness, a lack of sense of identity with humanity and purpose, a lack of respect for authority, a refusal of the minority to honor the decision of the majority while peacefully working to effect change, or intense concern over black and or white racism, poverty, crime in the streets, nor the threat of Communism. These are the dissimilarities. They had their own problems to solve, their own challenges. They met those challenges with strength, courage, resourcefulness, and faith in a better world-which is ours today despite its problems, its challenges.

What is the legacy, the heritage we have inherited from those who have gone before? What are our similarities? The similar qualities must be of greater magnitude if we are to preserve and overcome the challenges we face today as they overcame their challenges.

The sameness must come in a sense of commitment to a better life for all mankind, resorting to and depending upon reason and logic, the developing of a sense of responsibility, seeking fulfillment by service to mankind. To conserve our democracy we must continue to support and defend law, order, justice and delegated authority just as the past Del Ano editors and Delano High School students have. Their wish for peace, liberty, equality and respect for knowledge must also be ours. They were builders of a better world.

President John F. Kennedy asked us to ask ourselves what we could do for our country. We have inherited much and have much work to do. Are we prepared to continue progress, to meet the challenges? Delano High School continues to be the trustee of the aforementioned principles and ideals and the vehicle for orderly change and progress. Through logic, reason, knowledge and the ability to criticize what we do in a constructive manner, and through faith, and hope we shall work together to make use of the information and processes we have learned here at Delano High School to make this a better world.

A fund of more than $1,000 for scholarships for deserving club members was raised by Press Club members, under the leadership of president Kathy Wilhelm, during the school year.

For each of the five home football games, the club published a 16-page program jammed with lineups, photos and schedules and financed by more than 100 advertisements sold to local merchants.

Advertising from the football programs, basketball and wrestling programs distributed at more than ten events and the annual spring sports booklet listing schedules of teams and showing each team's photograph were all methods of adding to the club's treasury.

Many of the Friday meetings in the fall were filled with busy members stapling programs to meet the game night deadline.

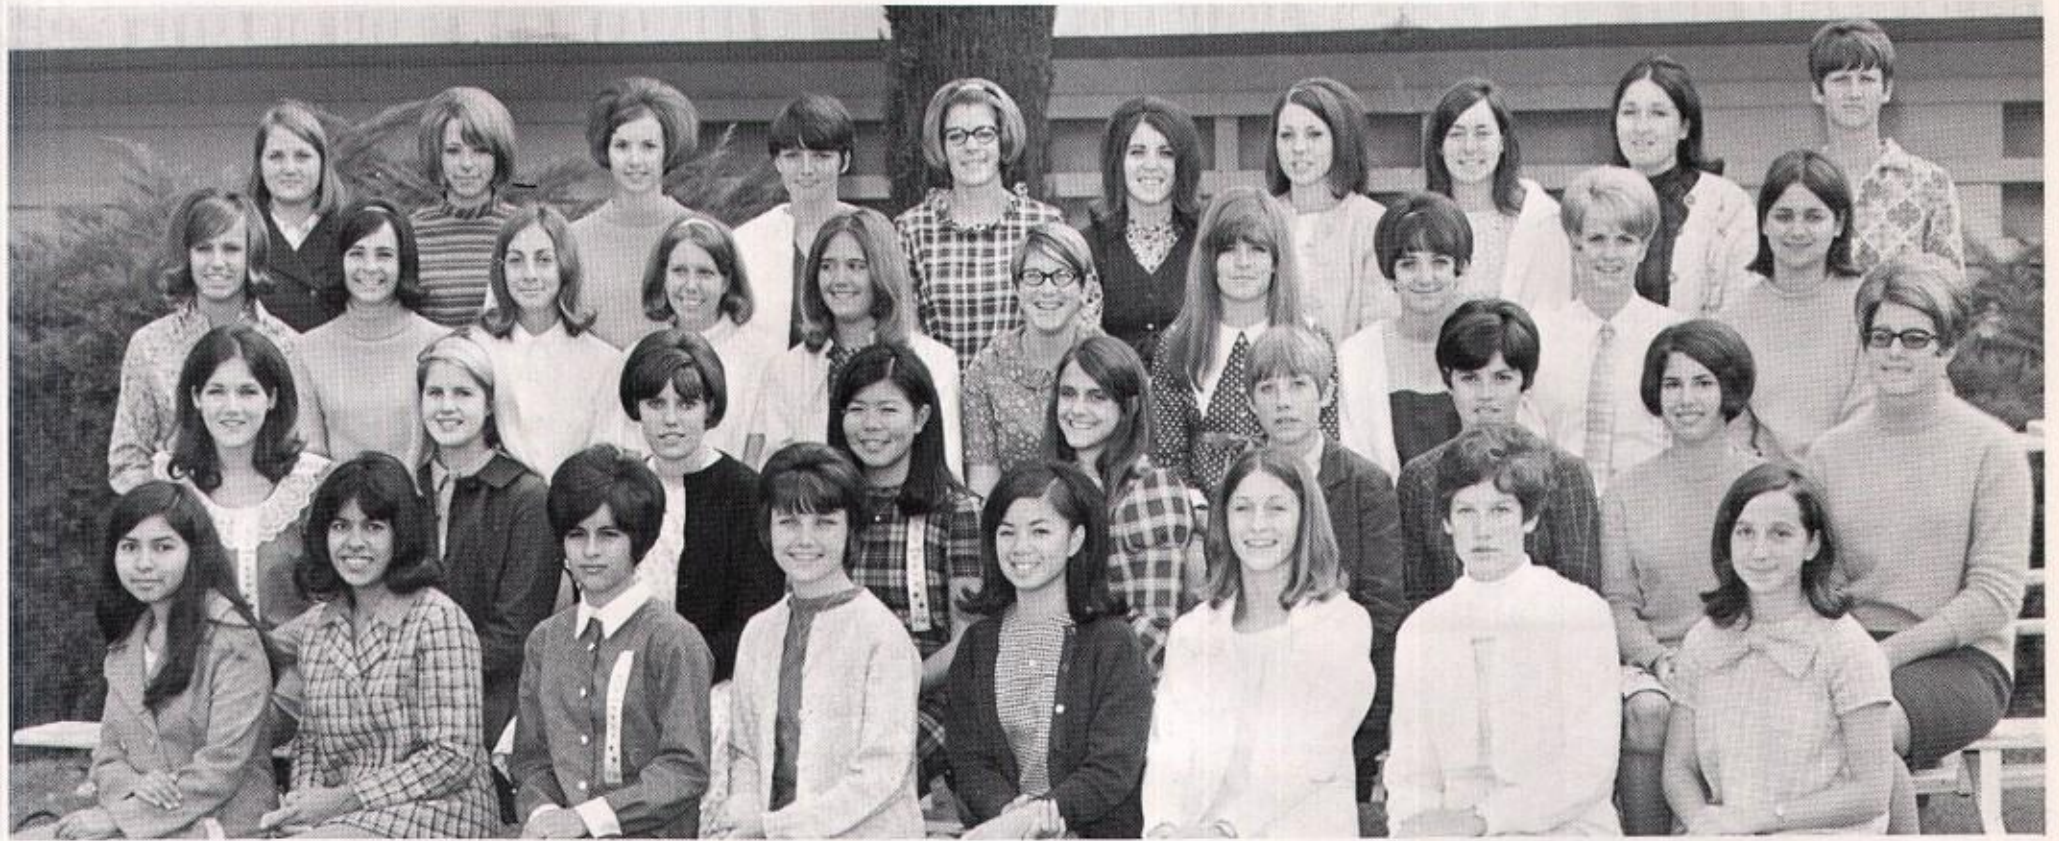

The club also planned some social events, the annual spring trip to the journalism conference at Fresno State and the climax of the year, the annual Press Club Banquet at the close of school where announcement would be made of four outstanding journalists to be presented plaques and worthy seniors who have earned scholarship awards from the club.

This year's officers were Dwayne Murray, Kathy Wilhelm, Chris Villard, and Cathy Nelson.

LIVE WIRE

Thirty-five issues of the Live Wire were published during the school year with most of the publications being four-page issues, interspersed with two- and eight-page papers. The staff was able to publish more four-page issues than ever before in recent years, chiefly because of more news available and a larger volume of advertising being sold.

The staff attempted to keep students posted on activities, classroom happenings, and athletic events, as well as commenting editorially on matters of importance to students and offering humorous and informative features.

The staff members were headed by an editor-in-chief and editorial board whose job it was to issue assignments of stories and photos, design the story, and photo section of each page, and write headlines. Other students shared the work of designing individual advertisements and putting them on pages.

Taking photos, writing stories, filing materials, delivering newspapers, and carrying out a myriad of other jobs, including story writing for the local newspaper, kept the staff jumping.

SPEECH CLUB

INTRA SPORTS

FOOTBALL

The purpose of the intr-mural contest is to allow the championship teams in each P.E. period to meet each other in an all school contest to determine the champion. This allows many boys a chance to play on teams even though they never go out for regular athletic teams after school.

Andy Burrell running for a goal.

WINNING TEAM

The winning team was: Ruben Domingo, Steve Hocking, Phillip Gillet, Bobby Bradley and Ismael Palomo. Kneeling: Mike Antonell, Ralph Garcia, Daniel Ramirez, and Dennis Peeveyhouse.

MURAL

Officials during the basketball games were: Frank Fragosa, Jose Jazmin, Freddy Chavez, and Eddy Villaros.

Delano has one of the best intramural programs in California. There is a great enthusiasm among the boys and the competition is always there. The boys play after school on their own time. The game is played for fun, and the boys play to see who's the best in school. No awards are given for this event. This is an all-student game, and there were student officials officiating.

IN MEMORIAM

A Psalm of Life

Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
Life is but an empty dream! -
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
And things are not what they seem.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the grave is not its goal;
Dust thou art, to dust returnest,
Was not spoken of the soul.

THE GREAT P-VILLE DECISION

This year's wrestling teams underwent many changes.

- (1) A freshman team was added to the roster.
- (2) A draftee was an addition to the varsity team half way through the season.
- (3) All of the teams except for the JV team were under new directors.
- (4) The Wrestling Queen Contest presented itself.
- (5) A wrestling banquet honoring the wrestlers and the Wrestling Queen was planned.
- (6) Female scorekeepers brightened up the wrestling atmosphere.
- (7) New training procedures were added.
